The kingdom of heaven is like treasure hidden in a field, which when a man found, he hid;
and for joy over it went and sold all that he had and bought that field.

The kingdom of heaven is like a landowner who went out early in the morning to hire workers for his vineyard.

Now when he had agreed with the workers for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard. He went out about the third, sixth, ninth and eleventh hour and saw others standing idle in the marketplace, and said to them, 'You also go work in the vineyard, and whatever is right I will give you.' So they went.

When evening had come, the owner of the vineyard said to his steward 'Call the workers and give them their wages, beginning with the last to the first.' And they each received a penny. But when the first ones hired came, they thought that they would receive more; but they likewise received a penny.

They complained against the landowner, saying, 'These men have not worked as long as us, and you made them equal to us who have worked all day long!'

But he answered one of them and said, 'Friend, I am doing no wrong. Did you not agree with me for a penny? Take what is yours and go your way. I wish to give to this last man the same as to you.'

The eyes of the blind will be opened,
and the ears of the deaf will be unstopped. Then the lame will leap like a deer, and the tongue of the dumb sing.

The kingdom of heaven is like a merchant seeking beautiful pearls, who, when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had and bought it.

The kingdom of heaven will be like ten girls who took their oil lamps and went out to meet the bridegroom.

Now, five of them were wise, and five were foolish. The foolish took their lamps and took no oil with them, but the wise took extra oil with their lamps.

While the bridegroom was delayed, they all slumbered and slept. And at midnight a cry was heard: "Behold, the bridegroom is coming, go out to meet him!"

Then the girls arose and trimmed their lamps. And the foolish said to the wise, "Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out." But the wise answered, saying "No, or there will not be enough for us and you; but go to those who sell and buy for yourselves."

While they went to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the wedding; and the door was shut. Afterward the other girls came also, saying, "Lord, Lord, open to us!" But he answered and said, "Truly, I say unto you, I do not know you."

Watch therefore, for you know neither the day nor the hour in which the Son of Man is coming.

What is the kingdom of God like?
It is like a mustard seed, which a man took and put in his garden; and it grew and became a large tree, and the birds of the air nested in its branches.

“The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb,
the leopard shall lie down
with the young goat,
the calf and the young lion
and the fatling together;
and a little child shall lead them.

The cow and the bear shall graze;
their young ones shall lie down together;
and the lion shall eat straw like the ox.

The nursing child shall play
by the cobra’s hole, and the weaned child shall put his hand in the viper’s den.

They shall not hurt nor destroy
in all My holy mountain.
For the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the LORD
as the waters cover the sea.”

The kingdom of heaven
is like a man who sowed
good seed in his field.

But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat and went his way. When the grain had sprouted and produced a crop, then the tares also appeared.

So the servants of the owner came and said to him, “Sir, did you not sow good seed in your field?
How then does it have tares?”

He said to them, “An enemy has done this.”

The servants said to him, “Do you want us then to go and gather them up?”

But he said, “No, or while you gather up the tares you will uproot the wheat with them. Let both grow together until harvest, and at the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, ‘First gather together the tares and bind them in bundles to burn them, but gather the wheat into my barn.’”

Matthew 13:24-30

The kingdom of heaven is like a dragnet that was cast into the sea and gathered some of every kind, which,
when it was full, they drew to shore;
and they sat down and gathered the
good into vessels,
but threw the bad away.
